

Northgate URC, Darlington, DL1 1QU

How to find us . . .

From the South via A1(M), take the A68 at junction 58 and carry straight on at all junctions until you reach the boundary of the map below (about 3 miles)

From the North via A1(M), take the A167 at junction 59 and carry straight on at all junctions until you reach the boundary of the map below (about 4 miles)

Northgate URC is to be found approx ½ mile north of the main shopping area of the town.

The church, with its big blue doors (and illuminated spire at night) is easy to find but parking is less obvious.

The main entrance (marked) is on Northgate, which is, in the area of the church, filled with fast food shops and the only cinema in the town. There is little parking space at this side of the church.

The rear entrance is in an unmarked road leading to a public car park, which is CCTV monitored and free on Sundays and after 6:00 p.m. The Saturday charge is currently £1/hour with a '3 for the price of 2' option.

Dropping off of equipment is normally possible - best at the rear entrance – park directly outside the door. The front of the church is on a bus lane and the roadside opposite is no parking.

Please do not park on the rear courtyard of the Bedding Centre – it looks to be closed when you arrive for Sunday morning service, but opens before the end of service!

The best place to park when coming to a service is the monitored car park referred to above. There is no need to walk all the way round (and up) to the front of the church to enter: you can come in the back door (ring the bell) and you will be directed up to the vestibule via stairs or lift so that you can then enter the sanctuary by the normal route.
